Introducing the Korean War Memorial Coin

Created to honor those who served, and to help build a memorial in the Nation's Capital

Not since the Lafayette Dollar of 1900 has a commemorative silver dollar had an authorized mintage this limited. With Congressional authorization for a total minting of only one million coins, just how extraordinary will the Korean War Memorial Coin be? Six of seven commemorative silver dollars since 1983 have sold more than 1,000,000 coins.

A fitting tribute to Korean War Veterans in its beauty and exquisite detail alone, coin sales will also help to build the Korean War Memorial in Washington.

In the U.S. Mint tradition of artistic excellence, a rare tribute to those who made courage common

The Korean War Memorial Coin design abounds in rich details, from the raised contrails of the jet fighters to the bust of the proud American Eagle. Proof versions of this commemorative are made from highly polished dies and are struck two or more times to bring out all the intricate details of the engraving. The resulting coin has a smooth, mirror-like surface from which the frosted, raised images stand out in vivid contrast. Both proof and uncirculated versions are individually inspected and immediately placed in a protective capsule.

Limited mintage increases the likelihood of a sellout. With wide appeal, especially to collectors and veterans, it is anticipated that this coin will create significant demand. Order during the brief pre-issue period and you'll receive a special discount, and give yourself the best chance of adding this exquisite coin to your collection.

DIRECTOR
MINT

DEPARTMENT OF THE TREASURY
UNITED STATES MINT
WASHINGTON, D.C. 20220

Dear Friend of the United States Mint,

This year marks the 38th anniversary of the ending of the Korean War in 1953. The 38th anniversary is symbolic to many familiar with that conflict because it recalls the famous 38th Parallel. This war preserved the freedom and human rights of the people of South Korea.

Congress has provided us with a unique opportunity to honor the courageous men and women who served in Korea by authorizing the issuance of the Korean War Memorial Coin. This limited-mintage silver dollar serves not only to commemorate the heroism of Americans in this conflict, but proceeds from the sale of these coins will also help to build the Korean War Veterans Memorial in the Nation's Capital. The Memorial will serve as a fitting recognition of American involvement in this campaign for many generations.

The Korean War Memorial Coin will have great collector appeal because of the Congressionally mandated mintage limit of just one million coins. Not since 1900 has the authorized mintage for a commemorative silver dollar been this low. Since several recent commemorative silver dollars have sold more than one million during the brief pre-issue discount period, interest in these coins should be lively early in the offering.

I hope you will participate in this important effort by adding this captivating commemorative to your collection.

Sincerely,

Donna Pope
Director of the Mint

P.S. Because of the strictly limited mintage of this issue, I urge you to order early to ensure that you will be able to receive one at the special pre-issue discount price.
